

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
October 23, 2009

Contact: Barbara Kimler
949.215.0417
bkimler@cox.net

The J.F. Shea Therapeutic Riding Center Announces New Board Members

San Juan Capistrano, Calif. - The J.F. Shea Therapeutic Riding Center recently appointed Julie Frost, Kathleen McClemmy and Louis Tomaselli to its Board of Directors. Now in its 31st year of operation, The Shea Center is dedicated to improving the lives of people with disabilities through therapeutic horse-related programs.

Julie Frost resides in Laguna Niguel and is the former vice president of marketing for Aliso Viejo-based DATAlegro Inc., a provider of large-volume, high-performance data warehouse appliances. DATAlegro was founded by Julie, her husband Stuart Frost and colleague Mark Thacker in 2003 and the company was acquired by Microsoft in 2008. Julie was first introduced to The Shea Center by former board member Ellen and Randy Lunn. Following the Lunn's introduction, Julie began a corporate volunteer program at DATAlegro which encouraged employees to volunteer at the Shea Center during work hours. Through DATAlegro's employee program, Julie began volunteering as a side-walker at The Shea Center and most recently served on the organization's annual gala committee.

San Juan Capistrano resident Kathleen McClemmy is the parent of a Shea Center rider who has Down syndrome and autism. Kathleen is a certified meeting professional and has worked in the hotel and convention industry for 15 years. Kathleen is also an active community leader who focuses on causes that benefit children, education and the disabled community. In addition to The Shea Center, Kathleen is involved with RH Dana Exceptional Needs Facility, Mission Parish School and Team Up for Down syndrome. Married to Richard McClemmy, the Vice President of Corporate Sales for the Los Angeles Angels of Anaheim, Kathleen has been actively involved with The Shea Center's annual BBQ committee for the past four years.

Louis Tomaselli also resides in San Juan Capistrano and is executive vice president of Voit Commercial Brokerage. He was introduced to The Shea Center at a 2007 golf tournament fundraiser by real estate colleagues at the J.F. Shea Company. In addition to supporting The Shea Center and other local causes with his wife Patti and three children, Louis is a member of El Viaje de Portola, an equestrian group that hosts an annual trek that follows explorer Gaspar de Portola's historic trail through Orange County.

"We are honored to have Julie, Kathleen and Louis on our board of directors," said Dana Butler-Moburg, Executive Director of The Shea Center. She went on, "Each of them has shown a true commitment to the Shea Center's mission and has supported our organization and the larger Orange County community through their gifts of time, talent and treasure."

One of the largest therapeutic riding centers in the country, The Shea Center is dedicated to improving the lives of people with disabilities through therapeutic horse-related programs. The privately funded, charitable organization was founded by social worker Fran Joswick in 1978 and annually serves more than 500 clients with approximately 70 varying disabilities.

For more information, call (949) 240-8441 or visit www.sheacenter.org.

###